Pa Newc Observes

Christmas trees in most homes of the city are being relegated to the rubbish heap today or are being burned in the furnace. Nothing is more unsightly to see a discarded evergreen tree lie around in back yards for several weeks following the holiday period.

In a recent "Do You Know New Castle" contest conducted at a gathering of a Sunday school class, Pa Newc was surprised at how few really knew the city and many of its important buildings and streets. The questions that really stumped the majority of the contestants were: "Where is Mechanic street?" and "Where is Federal street?" Few were able to supply the answers.

Taylor street has gained considerably in popularity as a thorough route for out-of-town traffic. Pa Newc has discovered. Throughout the day a large number of cars and trucks gathered at the traffic light at the intersection of Butler and East Washington street either going east or west.

How many times have you written January 2, 1947 today? Generally local citizens are writing the previous year several weeks after the new year has dawned?

New Castle and vicinity experienced an unusual winter storm on Thursday evening. Thunder and lightning accompanied the rain storm intermittently for a period of nearly two hours. Rain fell steadily, but the temperature conditions remained around the forties during the storm. Temperature was down near thirty this morning.

New Year's welcome to Little 1948 was rather quiet in New Castle. Pa Newc is informed. Some whistles and bells sounded, but there were no unusually big demonstrations.

Folks have remarked about the quiet reception given to the coming in of the new year, and recollected the big noise made by the Shenango unit, New Castle plant, railroad engines and other whistles during these occasions in days of yore.

Numerous houses throughout the city remained brightly lighted until the early morning hours Thursday as residents welcomed the advent of 1948.

Hospital Fund Workers Enthusiastic By Results In Expansion Drive

Workers of the advance gifts and industrial divisions Wednesday reported a total of $596,219 raised to date for Jameson Memorial hospital expansion fund, and heard Hon. W. Walter Braham declare this "a vote of confidence in the future of New Castle and Lawrence county."

Reporting $69,225 at their last scheduled meeting, these groups exceeded their minimum quota of $572,000 by more than $24,000 and pledged themselves to keep on working until every contact has been completed.

Congratulates Workers
Captain Roger W. Rowland, president of the Jameson board of trustees, congratulated the workers on exceeding their quota and reminded them that the $750,000 sought by the hospital is a minimum goal.

Will Ask Full Report On U.S. Aid To Greece Prior To Marshall Plan

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Two Republican senators said today they will insist upon a thorough report on American aid to embattled Greece before congress approves the Marshall plan.
Sen. Watkins (R) Utah and Ball (R) Minn., both expressed concern over the current struggle between the Greek army and communist-led guerrilla forces in northern Greece.

Looks Like Another Spain
Ball said "it's beginning to look like another Spain."
The senator declared that the appropriations committee, of which he is a member, undoubtedly will call for information on how the 300 million dollar Greek aid program, granted last year, has been executed.

Watkins said he is worried about the "deteriorating" situation in Greece and added:
"I'm going to insist upon thorough reports and an investigation of what has been done in Greece before we act on the Marshall plan. One thing I want to know is what executive agreements have been entered into."

Watkins said he "assumed" that Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., foreign relations chairman, would invite all senators to submit questions on the Marshall plan as he did when his committee considered the Greek-Turkish aid bill last year.

Although Vandenberg's committee will open its public hearings on (Continued on Page Two)

Street Battles In Jerusalem

Clashes Occur In Area Of Side Of City

JERUSALEM, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Jews, Arabs and police engaged in bitter street battles this morning in the area of the American colony on the north side of Jerusalem.

British armored cars tried to clean up snipers' nests on rooftops and inside buildings with bursts of machinegun fire, but as soon as one position was silenced another opened up.

The battle followed last night's Jewish attempt to blow up the building of the Moslem supreme council.

Arab sources said the bomb exploded outside the building, shattering windows.
The 5,000 Jewish residents of Jerusalem's old city sent out an SOS to the Jewish community council after existing for four days without replenishment of food supplies cut off by an Arab blockade.

The Jews are besieged inside the city's walls where no Jewish vehicles have been able to enter with fresh supplies.

COUNTY OFFICIALS ARE INVESTIGATING

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 2.—State police and Deputy Coroner Charles E. Allen are investigating the circumstances surrounding the death on Thursday night, of John Poldak, aged 56 years, of Mount Route 7, Ellwood City.

First information on the accident was received between nine and ten o'clock, when the bus driven by Kenneth Cowan, was stopped in the Burnstown sector, after it had apparently run over something. It was raining hard at the time. Investigation revealed the badly broken body of Mr. Poldak in the highway. He was taken to the Ellwood City hospital, but was pronounced dead on arrival.

Greek Troops Lift Siege Of Rebel Forces

By ALKAIOS ANGELOPOULOS
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE GREEK ARMY
WEST OF KONISTA, Jan. 2.—Guerrilla units forced to abandon their siege of Konista held off pursuit by Greek army regulars today at the destroyed Borazani bridge.

Under relief brigades smashed into Konista and lifted the rebel siege, the main Greek force driving northward from Jannina sought to crush rebel fighters in the region west of Konista.

Regulars Advance
The Greek regulars advanced swiftly in a maneuver to destroy the guerrilla formations and blot out the rebel bid to seize territory in northwestern Greece on which to set up a capital for the newly proclaimed Communist-led "free government."

When they reached the Borazani bridge, 11 miles west of Konista, the Greek army forces found that the rebels had destroyed the bridge.

They discovered the guerrilla forces, under command of rebel Captain Palaiologos, entrenched on the east side of the Aous river, which is the side closest to Konista.

Machine Gun Barrage
On the arrival of the Greek regulars the guerrillas loosed a barrage of machinegun and mortar fire. (Continued on Page Two)

The Matthew Leivo Sons company has been authorized to proceed at top speed with the removal of presses and furnaces now in the plant and to begin the installation of rolling mill equipment. It will be possible to start both jobs immediately, inasmuch as the east end of building 20 is clear.

Chicago Area Storm Damage Reported Heavy

Nine Dead, Many Injured
And Millions Of Dollars
Damage Reported

WIND, SNOW, SLEET CAUSE DESTRUCTION

(BULLETIN)

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—(INS)—The Chicago area counted its loss today in nine deaths, many injured and millions of dollars in damages as the upper midwest battled to recover from one of the most destructive wind, sleet and snow storms in many years.

Snarled traffic and communication lines added to the difficulties in the storm-stricken area.
A 4.6-inch snowfall that covered a layer of ice from an earlier sleet storm made roads, highways and streets extremely hazardous.

Hundreds Of Accidents
Nine traffic deaths and hundreds of automobile accidents were reported in the area that was whipped by wind gusts of 50 to 60 miles an hour.

The storm extended from northern Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, lower Michigan, Indiana and as far south as northern Kentucky.

Radio towers collapsed in the Chicago area, light power and telephone lines snapped, trees and poles crashed under the weight of sleet and snow.

Huge Damage
More than 1,500 Chicago telephones were out of service alone. Officials estimated that thousands of telephones were out of service throughout the area served by the Illinois Bell Telephone Company with an estimated damage of $1,000,000 for the Chicago area and northern Illinois.

Hundreds of homes were darkened when electricity was shut off by breaks in power lines.
All air traffic in and out of Chicago was halted. Planes were stopped at Cleveland, Omaha, St. Louis and other distant points.

Elevated, surface, bus and commuting local transportation was slowed down to a crawl. Through railroad trains were as much as three and four hours late.

Radio communications were interrupted by collapse of transmission towers of several stations and power failures.

Scores of windows were smashed by the wind and ice.

Rohrer Files Injunction In County Dispute

Asking that County Commissioners Earl R. Wimer and Joseph F. Travers be restrained from issuing a check for $5000 to Matthew Leivo Sons Co., Commissioner Karl T. Rohrer has filed an injunction suit against them in the Lawrence County Court.

The suit is also directed against County Treasurer Frank W. Hill and County Controller Andrew M. Dodds, and asks that they be restrained from approving a voucher or issuing a check. Hearing time is set for Monday morning, January 5. This tie may be continued to Tuesday morning, January 6, as Monday is inaugural day for newly elected county officials and also is the day to go over the argument list.

Compromise Payment
The injunction suit rises out of an attempt to compromise a claim for $9919 allegedly due on repairs to the West Washington street bridge. After taking the contract the Leivo company informed the commissioners there was a need for some additional steel, which they claimed was not shown upon the plan. The work was done but Rohrer refused to concur in the payment of the bill and County Controller Andrew M. Dodds refused to pass the expenditure.

Recently an effort was made to compromise the bill and Commissioners Wimer and Travers agreed to a figure of $5000. The company also agreed. Rohrer claims $2500 is sufficient for the amount of work and material put into the job. Hence the injunction suit.

Snow And Colder Forecast Tonight

Tail-End Of Violent Storm Will Hit This Section Of State
Sometime Tonight

(International News Service)

The tail-end of a violent southern and midwestern storm was expected to hit western Pennsylvania this afternoon or tonight, bringing with it snow flurries, wind and colder weather.

The storm, while not expected to be severe by the time it reaches the area will, however, be in sharp contrast to the New Year's eve and New Year's day spring-like weather, which saw temperatures rise to as high as 50 degrees in some places.

In other parts of the western end of the state, Thursday's rainy weather brought ice to highways as precipitation froze while it fell. Clinkering crews were busy today on the Pennsylvania turnpike between Irwin and Donegal, where slush made driving hazardous.

Wet snow was reported in Butler, Armstrong, Mercer and Beaver counties.

LEAVES LARGE ESTATE

BALTIMORE, Jan. 2.—(INS)—A partial inventory of the estate of the late Gen. H. M. Warfield, aged uncle of the Duchess of Windsor, today disclosed assets of more than $850,000.
The inventory included $150,000 in cash and $700,000 in securities. Warfield's real estate holdings will be listed at a later date.

The general, who made his home at Timonium, Md., bequeathed $15,000 to the duchess, the former Wallis Warfield Simpson, of Baltimore.

New York Area Staggers Under Second Storm

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—(INS)—The Greater New York area was staggered today by its second storm within a week. The latest storm disrupted subway service, knocked out fire alarm boxes, broke down power and light lines and even isolated whole communities.

A pelting rain which froze as soon as it hit the ground caused New Yorkers their latest grief. The rain continued without let-up all day yesterday and most of last night. This morning it turned to sleet and the forecast called for more snow later in the day.

Subway Affected
The city's subway system, which remained almost invulnerable during last week's record-breaking snow storm, suffered a major blow during the rush hours this morning. A broken water main caused suspension of service on the West Side, IRT line from 42nd to 98th streets.

The water cascaded down into the subway and flooded the third rail. Thousands of rush-hour passengers either were stranded or were forced to find their way to work by precarious surface methods.

The new storm gave the commuters another bad time this morning. All trains were subject to delays and commuter service on electric lines, especially the Long Island Railroad, was badly snarled because of the frozen switches and ice-covered third rails.

Bethlehem Is Storm Crippled

ICE-LOADED POWER LINES AND TREES
Topple Under Heavy
Burdens

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Jan. 2.—(INS)—Transportation was crippled in Lehigh and Northampton counties today in the wake of an overnight freeze which caused ice-laden power lines and trees to topple under the added weight.
Most of Bethlehem was blacked out during the night and there were still some sections of the city without electricity this morning. Electric company crews were busy trying to restore service.

Trolley car service in the city was suspended entirely, and buses slowed down to a virtual crawl as roads—already hazardous by ice—were made even more difficult to travel by trees and utility poles which had fallen across them.

Hundreds of trees snapped due to the weight of the ice, and orchards in the rural areas were expected to sustain heavy damage. The freeze, which started late yesterday, continued during the night with a low temperature of 28 degrees.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 2.—(INS)—State Secretary of Banking Ernest D. Brumbaugh today issued a call for a report of conditions as of December 31 at all state banks, bank and trust companies, trust companies and savings banks.

Midwest, South Report 46 Dead In Wake Of Storms

Tornadoes, Severe Sleet And Snow Storms Cover Wide
Area Over New Years

EASTERN COAST IS ALSO AFFECTED

(By International News Service)

The midwest and the south counted their loss today in at least 46 deaths, hundreds injured, millions of dollars in damage and snarled traffic and communication lines in the wake of tornadoes and severe sleet and snow storms over the New Year's holidays.

The storm still were raging today throughout the midwest and were moving on toward the Atlantic seaboard, already hard hit by a record-breaking snowstorm of last week.

A weather bureau forecast said the storm probably would reach the east coast sometime tonight.

New York Again Hit
But even as this storm rolled eastward, a sleet and rain storm pelted the New York area and created new hazards for the millions of metropolitan residents. The rain froze almost immediately, making driving difficult, walking even worse and hitting both communications and electric power systems.

Eight to 12 inches of snow are predicted for the New England area during the day. The forecast was made in a special weather bureau bulletin which said the present rain and sleet storm there will change to snow before the end of the day.

Tornadoes In South
At least 23 persons were dead in the wake of a series of tornadoes that swept through the southern Mississippi valley New Year's Eve.

A death toll of 14 was counted in the wreck of two trains near Syracuse, Mo., during a driving sleet and snow storm yesterday. Two other bodies still were believed to be planned under the wreckage.

The Chicago area which suffered one of the worst sleet and snow storms in its history New Year's day listed at least nine traffic deaths due to storm. Eight persons were killed on eastern Pennsylvania highways during a heavy rain storm.

New England Is Hard Hit By Another Storm

BOSTON, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Snow, sleet and freezing rain, carried on the wings of a 40-mile-an-hour northeast wind, pelted New England today. Eight to ten inches more snow are scheduled to fall before tonight's clearing.

The storm, coming on the heels of two severe previous ones, packed down snow and sleet on highways. Snow plows and sanding trucks went out but authorities warned motorists to keep off the roads unless their trips are necessary. Driving conditions every where were reported hazardous.

Conditions were so bad that 133 overseas travelers, many of them children, made unscheduled arrivals on six airliners from Europe.

Trains and trolley schedules were disrupted by the new storm.

Arthur Momster

Here's another year and another chance and a brand new world to survey, the year is young and the slate is clean. '47 has gone away, and in his place is a blank checked lid with a glimmer of dawn in his eyes, who is eager to start on his twelve-month job, and he can't seem to realize that the globe is rugged and that about 200 million people will be there to help him. It's a good thing, when you can, it's good, thing when you can.

New Tax Plan For France Will Be Ready Soon

By ROBERT PARKER
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Jan. 2.—The French government withdrew today its plan for a super-tax on incomes to stem inflation. The plan was passed recently by the national assembly of the republic.

Premier Robert Schuman went before the assembly to announce personally that the government was withdrawing the plan for balancing the budget which was formulated by Finance Minister Rene Mayer.

Premier Schuman declared that the government will submit a new compromise tax plan which it will not agree to modify.

He said he will stake the political existence of his government on his new bill, on which discussion is to start immediately.

The government objected to a series of modifications which were forced in the original bill by deputies of the extreme left and right.

After a special cabinet meeting Interior Minister Jules Moch decided to withdraw the Mayer plan because the amended versions voted by the assembly on the financial recovery measure would bring "insufficient results".

He said there will be no delay in submission of the text of a new plan to achieve economic recovery in France.

STUDENTS BUY AIRPLANES
MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 2.—(INS)—Aeronautical engineering students of West Virginia University had three new "Cub" airplanes purchased by the university.

The new planes have a top speed of 67 miles per hour compared to 75 miles per hour of models formerly used.

PROBE HIGHWAY DEATH OF MAN NEAR ELLWOOD

how he could have been so terribly injured, unless there were other complicating factors. They were investigating possibilities of the case, later in the night Ellwood City police informed officials that a young driver had visited police station and reported that he had hit some one along the highway in the Burnstown area. Police said the driver was Scott Brandt, age 21, of Stiefel avenue, Ellwood City.

Officials then surmised that it was the same man that the bus had struck later, and it was difficult to determine which accident was the cause of the man's death.

It is believed that when the bus accident occurred Pojda was attempting to cross the road to reach his home.

To Face Charges
Charges of failure to stop and render assistance will be preferred against Brandt this afternoon by state police, as a result of a confession made by the young man to state police, Assistant District Attorney Errol Fullerton and Deputy Coroner Allen, in the presence of Chief of Police Clark Rice.

Brandt stated that he was en route to Butler to see his girl friend, accompanied by Louis Shively, a friend. He stated that after he had struck someone, he became frightened and after stopping briefly, continued on to Butler.

He stated that he was unable to sleep all of last night, and this morning, determined to go to police and make a confession, which he did at 6:30 o'clock this morning. He has been in custody in Ellwood City since then, and will be formally charged this afternoon.

The Elks Home on North Mill street rang with joyous laughter as only children can laugh and shout when upwards of 500 member's children, and Margaret Henry Home kiddies enjoyed the annual New Year's party given by Lodge 69, Thursday.

The Elks as usual went all out to make the annual party a "howling" success. The feature of the occasion was a magician, Bill Joy of Sharon, and he put on a real show for the youngsters with his magic and had the rapt attention of every last one of the audience, the grown ups as well.

MIDWEST, SOUTH REPORT 46 DEAD IN WAKE OF STORMS

severe storms struck five southern states, Louisiana, Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama. Hardest hit were two small towns in northern Louisiana, Cotton Valley and Haynesville.

At least 18 persons were killed, more than 70 hospitalized and hundreds made homeless by the tornadoes that slashed a 100-mile path through Louisiana and south central Arkansas.

Four others were killed and more than a score injured in a series of storms in Shelby county, Tenn. Another man was killed when a violent wind slashed through Houston, Miss.

Power lines in suburban New York and New Jersey, weighted down by coats of ice, snapped in many places, leaving some communities without electricity or telephone service.

In New York City the storm aided considerably in melting down heaps of snow left since last week's record-breaking snowfall. But as cold winds turned slush to ice, snow removal was hampered.

Enroute To Ellwood
Miss DeCaria stated that she and her aunt, Miss Venezia, had met Sudor and Sedmak, in Youngstown, and they were taking them home. Skarlis was taking Mr. Bournias, his brother-in-law, who is proprietor of the Rex Cafe, West Washington street, to his home. The others in the Bournias car were going along for the ride, it was stated. All but Smith were employed at the Rex Cafe.

According to Skarlis, he was operating his car in the right hand lane, going west, when the car driven by Sudor, started coming across the highway towards his lane of traffic. When it appeared as if there was going to be a collision, he swerved the car sharply to the right, but the car driven by Sudor struck them, almost head-on, he said, the two cars piling up on the right side of the highway against the guard rail.

Three ambulances were necessary to take the injured to the hospitals here.

All the injured are getting along nicely, reports from the hospital indicated today.

The body of Sudor was removed to Youngstown, later Thursday morning by Schults and Son, funeral directors, to be prepared for burial.

State police and the coroner's office are continuing their investigation today to determine the responsibility for the crash.

tar fire from wooded heights above the destroyed river crossing.

The guerrilla effort to block pursuit was aided by an exceptionally heavy snowfall which made it difficult for the Greek regulars to spot concrete fortifications held by the rebels along the ridge.

It appears that unless there is a sharp change in the weather soon there is little chance that the main forces of the Greek army can cross the river for a large-scale drive to crush the rebels.

Meanwhile the rebels are fighting a constant delaying action to permit their main units ample time to withdraw to safer hideouts in the northern mountain regions.

ALLOCATIONS OF 'STOPGAP' AID WILL BE MADE

post-UNRRA Relief Act passed by Congress last spring. Safeguards are provided which assure that the people of the benefitting countries know that source of the assistance they are receiving.

French Negotiations Difficult
Negotiations with France over the distribution of supplies in her territory were the most difficult since France was not a beneficiary under the post-UNRRA relief law. Aid under that act was confined to Italy, Greece, China, Austria, Hungary and Poland. The last named two countries subsequently were ruled ineligible.

The present agreements may prove a test of the effectiveness of the long range Marshall plan. Under them the recipient countries are obliged to set aside the local currency received from the sale of goods in a special fund.

In this way the money will be withdrawn from circulation and operate against the inflationary tendencies which mark most European countries.

Moreover the United States is authorized to approve any plans for use of the money. Thus, the recipient countries may be obliged to use the funds for reconstruction.

While not readily apparent in the agreements themselves, it is reported that an understanding had been reached whereby the recipient countries institute fiscal reforms designed to stabilize their currency and encourage international trade in them.

GRANGE NEWS
Westfield Grange
On Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, there will be a regular meeting of members of Westfield grange, in their hall. There will be installation of officers.

More than 20,000 of the 180,000 species of beetles are found in the United States.

State department officials are described as reluctant to ask congress for additional Greek aid at this time because of the possible effect this would have upon approval of the Marshall plan.

ALL SCHOOL DANCE NE-CA-HI SUCCESS

Junior class of Ne-Ca-Hi held a most successful all school dance in the high school gymnasium on New Year's Eve. An orchestra provided the music with Peggy Ezzo as soloist. The old gym was transformed into a gala dance hall by Mary Lou Rocks and her decorations committee.

Along with colorful programs made by Peggy Floyd's committee, Vincent Lamorella, vice president, distributed noisemakers and paper hats.

During the intermissions, Rodgers Hemer and his committee provided acrobatic stunts, songs, gossip news items concerning those present, and finally, Old Father Time, in the person of Ben Haines, whose place soon was taken by the rapid entrance of the infant New Year, Wayne Wadding, appropriately dressed.

Meantime, Paul Simpson and a busy corps of attractive workers served light refreshments. The invitation committee, headed by Barbara Homan, encountered some difficulty in providing chaperons for such a busy night, but succeeded in obtaining a goodly number of interested parents and faculty to lend their presence.

The advertising committee, led by Norris Ahmed, evidently did a good piece of work, for John Brinton's tick-it committee reports that nearly 350 "tripped the light fantastic" from nine till one.

Much credit for this first attempt at an all-school New Year's Eve dance goes to the capable president of the junior class, Myron Frank, who was general chairman. One of his innumerable duties was the disposition of the door prize, which went to Pearl Jimson, Supervisor of the Class of 1949 in Miss Frances Hayden.

In the crowd were to be seen many college students, home for vacation, seizing this opportunity to see old friends, and the smart uniforms of Marines, the Navy and the Army lent distinction to the scene.

DINNER-ELECTION FOR CHURCH CHOIR

A gift exchange was enjoyed and Miss Emma Patton, on behalf of the choir, presented Mrs. Kathryn N. Allen, choir director, with a gift. Remainder of the evening was spent playing games.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

The last surviving branch of the once mighty Hohenzollern tree withered in the hot blasts of Communist ideology when King Michael of Romania abdicated his throne.

And in the capitals of Europe today there was the inevitable flood-tide of speculation around unheated stoves in dingy cafes that embraced three main questions:

1—Did King Michael abdicate of his own free will as did Edward VIII of England in order that he might marry the Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma?

2—Was the abdication forced upon him—with the astute foreign minister Ana Pauker withholding funds for the wedding simply as a good forcing him to throw in the sponge?

3—Why in any case did the Communist-dominated government of Romania countenance for so long the Anachronism of a single crowned head amidst the drab, colorless aridity of Balkan proletarian existence?

To find the real answer to any and all three will be work for historians and archivists rather than cafe and tearoom gossipers.

Unreel Interplay
Eventually, it may be discovered that there has been a tremendous amount of enforced interplay among the nations now in the Soviet orbit. Certainly the Communist doctrinaires are wily schemers in deed and Ana Pauker has the dubious distinction of being one of the shrewdest of all.

If the wording of the Romanian proclamation is taken at its face value, Michael made a magnanimous gesture to his people by recognizing the system of monarchy as out of date and a stumbling block to public progress.

From this type of rhetoric, it may logically be assumed that if the Communists ever should gain control of Greece, the conspirators would find some means of compelling King Paul to abdicate, ostensibly of his own volition.

"Kremlin's Hands Are Clean"
Thus for the immediate records—always the chief interest of quick-thinking Soviet propagandists—the Kremlin's hands are clean.

Michael was permitted to show up in glorious uniform at the wedding of Princess Elizabeth to Prince Philip Mountbatten, Duke of Edinburgh.

He was allowed to linger in Switzerland as long as he wished and was granted an official welcome when he returned.

So far as is known he went to Mme. Pauker and asked humbly for permission to marry. She was so, so sorry, understood his youth and romantic bent, but asked how poor Romania, in dire financial condition, would afford a state wedding and the future economic burdens that a queen would impose if she lived in proper state.

She had maneuvered Michael into a position where she could afford to shrug her shoulders if the king preferred marriage to Soviet puppetry.

The Parent Problem
By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

AVOIDING A FEEDING PROBLEM
A great many parents remind the young child as he dawdles over foods that he may have the dessert after he has finished all the other foods. Sometimes they place the dessert in sight of the youngster early during his meal.

This practice has some obvious merit and for a few children it seems to bring the desired results. But it sometimes leads to vexation in both the child and parent, especially when the mother keeps reminding him of the dessert and what he will have to do to earn it.

Crying And Pleading
Sometimes the visible presence of the dessert or the conditional promise of it arouses crying, pleading, or arguing in the child, after which he may get the dessert anyway whether he fulfilled requirements or not. Moreover, promised dessert may seem so far away and the task of earning it so great that he will despair of ever getting it, in which case it may have no pull at all. It even may render his other foods repellant.

If you have carefully followed my discussion of hard eating problems from time to time in this column and read my related bulletin, to be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y., you know that I would apply the dessert principle all through the meal of a child, say from fifteen months to six years of age. Accordingly, he would be served first a very small portion of the one most essential food, nothing more; then a very small portion of the next-most essential food, and so on. He would not be told, asked or urged to eat.

But if (or when) he refused any food offered or failed to finish that small portion, his meal would end until the next regular mealtime, the mother being sure he could have no other food in the meanwhile. She would not, of course, feed him. He would feed himself. Always then he would do the choosing—between the small portion of the single food offered him and nothing.

Angry Talking
There would be no occasion for angry talking or for parent-child scenes. Advice by the pediatrician concerning which foods should take priority might be desirable. Remember, only one food at a time and a very, very small helping of it. No other food till all of this has been eaten. No "seconds" until the gamut has been run.

Perhaps the most important item is smallness of the helping—of carrot, for example, a fifth of a teaspoonful; of milk, a fifth of a cup. When you place before the child at once all of any single food you suppose he should have for that meal, he has a task seeming to him too discouraging to accomplish. If you place before him several food items simultaneously, the hurdle to dessert may appear to him all the more nearly hopeless. Besides, as he dawdles, he will incline to mix the foods and play with them, rendering them still less appetizing, when you surely will be tempted to urge him to eat or to push the food into him.

He may, of course, lose a bit of weight for a few days, in case you stick to this plan. Yet his appetite will eventually sharpen and his weight will increase, if you can have faith and be patient.

Hints On Etiquette
When you give a party, don't wear a dress that is such a knock-out that it eclipses the costumes of your guests. That is not thoughtful or polite.

From Me To You

There's an old saying . . . that no matter what happens on the first day of the year . . . that is what will continue to happen in the days that follow in that particular year . . . Now we know that this saying can be taken for what it is worth . . . but thinking the matter over we wonder just what the weather will be like in the days to come for yesterday we did experience here in Lawrence County a variety. Rain, fog, sunshine, warm winds . . . cool winds . . . thunder and lightning . . . about all we did miss was a few snow flakes. So you see we do have something to look forward to.

Happy New Year . . . now that we have the weather out of the way and how did you enjoy the many football games that were played throughout the nation yesterday . . . some were very interesting and some were just games. We of course were very much interested in the Cotton Bowl game . . . that particular game represented Pennsylvania . . . and the Penn State team occupies a very warm place in this old heart . . . From what we could gather it was a game that was a game . . . The tied score is nothing to be exactly ashamed of . . . Out on the West Coast the big game of the season was very colorful but one sided . . . we felt extremely sorry for the UCLA players . . . playing a losing game is tough going . . . but they did it like good American citizens that they are.

Going back to the night before New Year's Day . . . how did you enjoy the ringing out the old year and ringing in the new? There were many parties . . . many get-togethers . . . some were within reason and others were out of this world . . . It seems that some people just can't seem to keep their heads . . . and wish the day after that they hadn't tried so hard to keep 'em when they feel like overgrown pumpkins.

Now that the celebration is over . . . we can settle down to some real work . . . Here in New Castle the New Year looks better than any New Year for many and many a moon. Our industrial might is growing and when that is the case . . . everything else will progress.

To me every year of my life has been an adventure and a thrill.

I love life, but I don't want to be a glutton.

When my time comes I'll accept the end graciously and with thanks on my lips.

"Life has been good to me," I'll say, "now let it be good to those who come after me."

(Copyright, 1948, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

And in the capitals of Europe today there was the inevitable flood-tide of speculation around unheated stoves in dingy cafes that embraced three main questions:

1—Did King Michael abdicate of his own free will as did Edward VIII of England in order that he might marry the Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma?

2—Was the abdication forced upon him—with the astute foreign minister Ana Pauker withholding funds for the wedding simply as a good forcing him to throw in the sponge?

3—Why in any case did the Communist-dominated government of Romania countenance for so long the Anachronism of a single crowned head amidst the drab, colorless aridity of Balkan proletarian existence?

To find the real answer to any and all three will be work for historians and archivists rather than cafe and tearoom gossipers.

Unreel Interplay
Eventually, it may be discovered that there has been a tremendous amount of enforced interplay among the nations now in the Soviet orbit. Certainly the Communist doctrinaires are wily schemers in deed and Ana Pauker has the dubious distinction of being one of the shrewdest of all.

If the wording of the Romanian proclamation is taken at its face value, Michael made a magnanimous gesture to his people by recognizing the system of monarchy as out of date and a stumbling block to public progress.

From this type of rhetoric, it may logically be assumed that if the Communists ever should gain control of Greece, the conspirators would find some means of compelling King Paul to abdicate, ostensibly of his own volition.

"Kremlin's Hands Are Clean"
Thus for the immediate records—always the chief interest of quick-thinking Soviet propagandists—the Kremlin's hands are clean.

Michael was permitted to show up in glorious uniform at the wedding of Princess Elizabeth to Prince Philip Mountbatten, Duke of Edinburgh.

He was allowed to linger in Switzerland as long as he wished and was granted an official welcome when he returned.

So far as is known he went to Mme. Pauker and asked humbly for permission to marry. She was so, so sorry, understood his youth and romantic bent, but asked how poor Romania, in dire financial condition, would afford a state wedding and the future economic burdens that a queen would impose if she lived in proper state.

She had maneuvered Michael into a position where she could afford to shrug her shoulders if the king preferred marriage to Soviet puppetry.

The Parent Problem
By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

AVOIDING A FEEDING PROBLEM
A great many parents remind the young child as he dawdles over foods that he may have the dessert after he has finished all the other foods. Sometimes they place the dessert in sight of the youngster early during his meal.

This practice has some obvious merit and for a few children it seems to bring the desired results. But it sometimes leads to vexation in both the child and parent, especially when the mother keeps reminding him of the dessert and what he will have to do to earn it.

Crying And Pleading
Sometimes the visible presence of the dessert or the conditional promise of it arouses crying, pleading, or arguing in the child, after which he may get the dessert anyway whether he fulfilled requirements or not. Moreover, promised dessert may seem so far away and the task of earning it so great that he will despair of ever getting it, in which case it may have no pull at all. It even may render his other foods repellant.

If you have carefully followed my discussion of hard eating problems from time to time in this column and read my related bulletin, to be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y., you know that I would apply the dessert principle all through the meal of a child, say from fifteen months to six years of age. Accordingly, he would be served first a very small portion of the one most essential food, nothing more; then a very small portion of the next-most essential food, and so on. He would not be told, asked or urged to eat.

But if (or when) he refused any food offered or failed to finish that small portion, his meal would end until the next regular mealtime, the mother being sure he could have no other food in the meanwhile. She would not, of course, feed him. He would feed himself. Always then he would do the choosing—between the small portion of the single food offered him and nothing.

Angry Talking
There would be no occasion for angry talking or for parent-child scenes. Advice by the pediatrician concerning which foods should take priority might be desirable. Remember, only one food at a time and a very, very small helping of it. No other food till all of this has been eaten. No "seconds" until the gamut has been run.

Perhaps the most important item is smallness of the helping—of carrot, for example, a fifth of a teaspoonful; of milk, a fifth of a cup. When you place before the child at once all of any single food you suppose he should have for that meal, he has a task seeming to him too discouraging to accomplish. If you place before him several food items simultaneously, the hurdle to dessert may appear to him all the more nearly hopeless. Besides, as he dawdles, he will incline to mix the foods and play with them, rendering them still less appetizing, when you surely will be tempted to urge him to eat or to push the food into him.

He may, of course, lose a bit of weight for a few days, in case you stick to this plan. Yet his appetite will eventually sharpen and his weight will increase, if you can have faith and be patient.

Hints On Etiquette
When you give a party, don't wear a dress that is such a knock-out that it eclipses the costumes of your guests. That is not thoughtful or polite.

"How's That Again?"

Reuther As Running Mate?

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 2.—Walter Reuther, personable young president of the Automobile Workers Union, is getting talked about not too seriously as a running mate for Mr. Truman.

The Democrats could do a lot worse. Reuther at 41 has been a labor leader for more than 10 years. He has more education and travel background than most men, although he had to work himself through college and a trip around the world. Reuther is as violent a Red-hater as J. Parnell Thomas and is a lot more formidable. As head of the biggest union in the world, the red-faced young leader drove the Communies and Leftists out of power by means so simple that they sound surprising. He says: "Commies are negligible as to their numbers, but they'll get to meetings early and stay there till the voting's over. We beat 'em by getting our own boys aroused so that they'll do the same thing."

Political Conservative
Reuther is not only a political conservative as labor leaders go, but he's also a staunch capitalist in the sense that he sees labor as part of the capitalist system. The UAW president's theme song is production. He believes that production will give the whole nation security and lasting prosperity, and he says nobody knows the limit of American productive ability because we have never reached that limit. Why not? Because industrial managers have stalled along on artificial shortages, afraid that overproduction would lead to a depression and corporate losses. Also, because nobody but Mr. Roosevelt, it seems to Dr. Reuther, ever used economic controls to pour materials into basic industries. Mr. Roosevelt did this only during war, but Reuther would like to see it done for the duration of the present crisis with Russia.

Not Campaign Speech
If this reads like a Democratic campaign speech, it's because Reuther's line of thinking and talking makes him a natural for the kind of labor campaigning that the Democrats have done since the New Deal was founded. Ask Reuther if strikes haven't been a factor in our low post-war production, and he shakes his head. Not strikes, just shortages and lock-outs. Ask him if production couldn't be increased by increasing the 40-hour work week, and he turns on the slow burn of indignation. Never increase the working hours, just increase the number of workers. Ask him if the European recovery plan may not require some sacrifices on the part of labor and he replies as Mr. Roosevelt did during the war that superproduction can be had without any loss of "social gains" by labor.

Hardly Disqualifies Him
Reuther, as anyone can see, has all the cheerful inconsistencies of a zealot, but these will hardly disqualify him as a candidate. What stands in his way is simply that he is a union leader. Democratic chieftains, especially those with southern accents, will find this fact hard to accept. A laborite on the national ticket. Impossible! But is it? John L. Lewis didn't think so when he offered himself as Mr. Roosevelt's vice president. The late Sidney Hillman probably didn't think so when he "cleared" Mr. Truman's nomination. The fact is that organized labor, with no national party of its own, seems about to do what Tammany Hall and the Southern Confederacy did long ago—move in with the Democrats. Tying Reuther's name to the tail of the Truman ticket would just about accomplish the move.

Will Get His Testing
But Reuther will get his testing in statesmanship a couple of months before the Democratic convention meets. Between now and then he will be a key figure in labor's attempt to get its third wage hike since V-J Day. But if Reuther gets his way, it won't be a conventional wage demand. Purchasing power for workers, not filthy lucre, is what he says he is after. This means that he'll use his bargaining position to hold the line on wages if the manufacturers will agree to hold the line on prices. In this attempt, assuming that he means what he says, Reuther will have an unexpected advocate and helpmate in Senator Taft who is also working for "voluntary" deflation. And if he succeeds in putting over such a miracle, the mention of Reuther for vice president will be both more frequent and more favorable than seems possible today.

The World and the Mud Puddles

RUSSIA—THE GOOD FRIEND

Harold Stassen, who is one of candidates for the nomination for President of the United States on the Republican ticket is doing a lot of talking.

One of the last things he talked about is one record made by the German military occupation. He has a good deal to say about the vast quantity of military marks printed and circulated by Russia in Germany. He doesn't name any names but he points very distinctly to the action of former Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau.

Stassen calls it the strange action of somebody in authority lending to the Soviets the printing plates, the ink, the paper and the press. He says further, that with characteristic Communist guile, the Soviets proceeded to run the presses overtime and began flooding the American zone with the paper money. This was done on the plates loaned to the Soviets. The United States originally assumed the responsibility for redemption of this special military currency and now finds itself "stuck" to an amount estimated at from four to five hundred million dollars.

Mr. Morgenthau has not replied. He was not named by Stassen and he probably thinks it is not necessary to say anything about it. The big-wigs in Washington have not purchased any national explanation of this queer act of socialism and good will, nor thus far indicated exactly where the responsibility lies, but the American taxpayer, as usual, will have to foot the bill.

State Police Say:

Tire chains cannot replace caution on icy or snow-covered highways. While chains provide a definite margin of safety, the car operator must select a very prudent rate of speed under such circumstances, especially when approaching curves or intersections. On glare ice, your chains may act "runners" if the brakes are suddenly and forcibly applied.

Fails To See Intended Fun

By PAUL GALlico

There is a new picture on view, or will be shortly, entitled, "The Senator Was Indiscreet," concocted by those wags, Nunnally Johnson and Charley MacArthur, who wrote the screen play, and George Kaufman who directed it, which ought to be screamingly funny, but somehow isn't. It ought to roll you in the aisles from laughter, but you are surprised to find that it doesn't. At least not me.

Me, it left feeling a little sad at times, and at other times downright angry. Three of the cleverest guys in the business got together to kill you with satire, and up comes a stinker.

Lampoons American Politics
The movie lampoons American politics, politicians and the office of the president of the United States, with Bill Powell wearing a wig and moustache and pretending to be a nitwit senator with presidential aspirations who falls into the hands of a high pressure publicity man who comes close to getting him elected.

Maybe I would have laughed at it fifteen years ago. I couldn't laugh an awful lot at it today. I guess maybe the idea of a fool running for the presidency in these times hurts too much. We aren't safe that we can kid about that one.

After the thing had unwound and the lights went up, I tried to figure out my discomfort. Darned if I didn't come up with the feeling that it was a sort of "Ninotchka" in reverse. Remember how we kidded the pants off the Russians in that one. Well, in this one, the boys kid the pants off us. And without pants we don't look good. The Russians would get one thumping big bang out of the picture, but it wasn't made by Russians, but by honest Americans, if the Russians had made it, we would be raising the roof, or if the Hollywood pinkies were involved. But since it was Americans, I am raising it.

Where Did They Fall Down
Where did the boys fall down? I laughed fit to kill at "Of Thee I Sing." I thought "State of the Union" was a wonderful play, both of these shows handling a similar topic though not by the same writers. After I had seen "The Senator Was Indiscreet," I felt as though I had been on a romp through a graveyard.

Maybe audiences will howl and slap their sides at the antics of the Senator and his crowd, but I didn't. Mostly I found myself acutely embarrassed because this was my country and my government the boys were ridiculing.

Nothing is quite as dangerous as farce or satire that doesn't come off. Unless the skeleton of such a play is padded with hearty and genuine and continuing laughter, the bones tend to show through, and bones are not pretty.

Insult To Country

For I thought that the story told by "The Senator Was Indiscreet" not only was an insult to the government and to the presidency, but to every citizen of the country, including myself. If that is how we are, then maybe it is time to begin all over again. For not only the mythical Senator, but the people of the United States are made out to be prime fools. I don't believe it.

We have had out classic clowns in the legislative bodies, the shenanigans of the politicians are never pretty. Our ability to kid them and take a ribbing ourselves when the mirror is held up to us has always been a sign of our wonderful national health. But in this little opus, we all emerge as arrant fools. It seems to me never to manage to get off the floor of a low ethical plane, its theme being blackmail, and its resolution resulting from a double-cross on the part of the young hero. I would hate for the British to see this piece—or the French, or the Hottentots, and particularly the Russians.

There. That's off my chest.

Bible Thought

The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the haughty eyes of the Lord alone shall be exalted in that day. For the day of the Lord of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up; and he shall be brought low.—Isaiah 2:11, 12.

FISHING LESSON
The biggest fish I ever caught was always smaller than I thought.

And less upon the scale would weigh Than any one that got away.

And so I wonder, can it be, All fishermen, including me, Belittle what they gain and choose To magnify the prize they lose?

Perhaps 'tis human low to score The thing we got and wish for more.

To value gain at lowest rate And hold life's every loss is great. To put God's blessings all aside, Remembering only those denied, To take for granted every bliss, And reckon sweeter what we miss.

Yet men out fishing understand That smaller score the fish they land Than those for which awhile they play.

Only to have them get away. Hence can it be with all desire? Of joys we have we quickly tire. But those we miss, as time goes by, With bitterness we magnify.

Words Of Wisdom

There is some soul of goodness in things evil. Would men observingly distill it out.—Shakespeare

RICHMOND, Va.—The fourth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, declaring white primaries illegal in South Carolina, asserts: "No election machinery can be upheld if its purpose or effect is to deny the Negro, on account of his race or color, an effective voice in the government of his country, or state or the community wherein he lives."

ST. LOUIS—Sen. Robert A. Taft criticizes the administration's efforts to aid Europe and declares: "If we want the Marshall plan in the form proposed, we might as well admit that it necessarily means higher prices."

Douglas County Sheriff John L. Hammond, who returned Tucker to Denver at 2 a. m. today from Hot Sulphur Springs, Colo., where the Hoosier was taken from a train yesterday, said Tucker had admitted the killing.

Hammond said Tucker also admitted critically wounding Hutchins' wife, Shirley, 20, and taking $1,500 from the couple.

INVISIBLE TEETH
Sometimes we hear people say "What you can't see, don't hurt you". Ask a baby who is about to cut a tooth.

It seems to hurt sometimes whether it can be seen or not. Dentists tell us that a baby's teeth are well on the way before it is born.

It seems as though it is important for the mother to eat food which will provide proper materials for teeth.

Sometimes people say that the mother must eat a large amount because she is feeding two instead of one. We should not forget that one of the two is pretty small.

Perhaps a good supply of milk and sunshine is pretty important. The milk may in the form of cheese or ice cream or milkshake or buttermilk or soup either fresh or cooked.

There are few of the older generation who can call a family roll of 117 children and grandchildren, but in the picture above is a resident of New Castle who holds such a record. In the picture are members of five generations in one family, all residents of New Castle.

Louis Preisel, 88, of 622 Elna street, seated in front on the left, is the father of nine children, 52 grandchildren, 54 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren, all living.

mother of Mrs. Edward Fee, in front on the right, on whose silver wedding anniversary the picture was taken.

Standing in the rear are two daughters of Mrs. Fee, Mrs. Durwood Jones (left) and Mrs. Robert D. Johnston (right) holding their respective babies, both now eight months old, who are Mr. Preisel's great-great-grandsons.

Mrs. Jones (Marjorie) holds her son Larry and Mrs. Johnston (Florence) holds Darrell Johnston. There is only one day's difference in the babies' ages.

NEW TAX SALE LAW IN EFFECT

New Measure Goes Into Effect In Pennsylvania; Consolidates Delinquent Tax Claims

HARRISBURG, Jan. 2.—(INS)—A new tax sale law effective today in Pennsylvania consolidates all delinquent real estate tax claims in one agency as a convenience to property owners, prospective buyers and title searchers.

Excepted from its provisions by the general assembly are the city and school districts of Pittsburgh and Scranton and Philadelphia county, city and schools. The act became effective January 1.

Third class cities may vote not to operate under its provisions by a resolution of council while counties of the second through the eighth classes may elect not to participate if decisions are recorded before the end of January.

'Miss Pittsburgh' Planning To Wed

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 2.—(INS)—Lillian Hanford, of Uniontown, "Miss Pittsburgh of 1947" at the Atlantic City beauty contest last summer, plans to be married in the near future.

Her mother, Mrs. Beatrice Hanford of Uniontown, announced her engagement last night to Donald L. Sneddon, 21, an employee in the engineering department of Republic Steel Corp. No definite date for the wedding was announced.

Miss Hanford, also 21, was graduated from Uniontown high school in 1945. She now is employed as a bookkeeper. She said that despite her wedding plans, she plans to make use of the $1,000 scholarship which she received as one of the 15 finalists in the 1947 beauty contest.

Miss Hanford won a local beauty contest in Uniontown, and then was named "Miss Pittsburgh" a week later.

Consider Building Of White House Balcony

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Construction of a balcony of the south side of the White House is under consideration. It was reliably reported in New York and Washington today.

Preliminary sketches are being prepared by New York Architect William A. Delano, who is expected to discuss the project with the president's living quarters, according to the plans.

However, members of the Commission of Fine Arts, who determine the advisability of projects involving historic national property, are reported opposed to such construction.

The final decision is expected to be made by the president after he inspects the plans, which were reported inspired by a balcony he saw on one of his recent tours.

STRIKE CONTINUES

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 2.—(INS)—A strike of 1700 miners at the Vesta No. 4 mine of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., at California, Pa., continued today despite efforts of United Mine Workers' officials to get the men back at work.

The miners struck last Monday in protest to a company order that they should wear safety helmets while at work.

The first transmission of pictures by electricity was made in 1842 by Alexander Bain, an English physicist. His plan was so basically correct that modern experimentation followed his lead.

The company has opened operations in Lawrence county and is represented by Charles M. Haydon of Walmo.

DIVORCES DOWN ONE HALF

It probably doesn't indicate that Lawrence county couples are staying together any better than they have been, but it is a fact that the divorce rate dropped 50 per cent in Lawrence county in 1947 over 1946. In 1947 there were 162 divorces granted as against 332 for 1946, 184 for 1945, 170 in 1944 and 136 in 1943. In other words the divorce rate in 1947 was the lowest since 1943.

The year 1946 was high because of the number of veterans who were divorced after they returned from service. It was the peak year in this county in all history.

Marriage licenses were off a little from 1946. In 1946 there were 1663 licenses granted, high because of the returning veterans. In 1947 there were 1320 marriage licenses issued, according to Probationary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar.

Assistant Coach At St. Vincent's College Is Suicide Victim

GREENSBURG, Pa., Jan. 2.—(INS)—Coroner Adam Kepple issued a verdict of suicide today in the death of Vernon Jay (Barney) Foltz, 29, former National Football League player and an assistant football coach at St. Vincent's College, Latrobe, Pa.

Foltz died in a Greensburg hospital Wednesday night, three hours after shooting himself in the temple with a small rifle, Coroner Kepple said.

Foltz played center for the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1942, and after serving with the Marines in the Pacific, played with the Washington Redskins in 1944. He had been coaching at St. Vincent's since.

Sen. Vandenberg Not Candidate

DETROIT, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg formally and unequivocally withdrew from the Presidential race Wednesday. The Michigan Republican favorite son divorced himself from the GOP convention contest in letters to Michigan Gov. Kim Sigler, National Committeeman Arthur E.

Summerfield of Flint and John A. Wagner of Battle Creek, chairman of the state central committee.

Vandenberg stated that he definitely is not a candidate for the nomination and requested delegates not to mention his name at the convention, even as a favorite son.

Philadelphia New Year's Parade Is Spoiled By Rain

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Half of Philadelphia's famous mummies made final adjustments once more today on their gorgeous satin costumes in the hopes that the weather will let them march up Broad street tomorrow—two days after their traditional New Year's date.

The other half—14 comic and fancy dress clubs who held their rendezvous with the new year yesterday as scheduled—began the task of salvaging what plumes and spangles they could from their rain-soaked and dirt-spattered costumes.

Captains of the 17 string bands decided at the last minute to hold their parade tomorrow—weather permitting. Time was when the parade went on no matter what the weather, but the captains explained that possible damage to costly band instruments and costumes resulted in the postponement.

Little Satisfaction Those clubs that did march had little satisfaction. The judges, who view the parade at the half-way point, announced the winners of more than $18,000 in prizes.

But one regulation of the group requires that the winners must march the entire route. Some of those who won prizes were unable to complete their march yesterday, however, because a down-pour added too many extra pounds to the weight of their costumes.

A committee will decide the disposition of the prizes. An additional $10,000 or more in prizes will be awarded to the string bands tomorrow.

Report Burglars Get $16,000 In Loot

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Jan. 2.—(INS)—Youngstown police reported today that the home of R. E. Marino, Youngstown and Miami, Fla., night club owner, was looted early Thursday by burglars who escaped with jewelry and clothing valued at more than $16,000.

Hoover To Probe VA's Insurance

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Veterans Administrator Carl Gray disclosed that ex-President Herbert Hoover will investigate "operational procedures" of the VA's insurance system.

The newly appointed administrator told a news conference that Hoover's special committee, appointed by Congress to study organization of the government's executive departments, will expand its function to include "the way we operate our insurance service."

Gray declared that the VA, along with the other federal branches, is to undergo an organization study "but not an operational investigation until my request."

Many Complaints
He said that the request for an investigation was made because "we have received many complaints about the insurance service to veterans."

At the same time, Gray reported that much of the investigation will be carried on by experienced commercial insurance men.

He said that Col. Franklin D. Oiler, chairman of the board of the Prudential Life Insurance Co., heads Hoover's sub-committee which will probe the VA insurance set-up.

Gray promised that any maladministration will be promptly exposed and declared that recommendations of the investigators would be acted on with dispatch.

He added, however, that the VA would not necessarily wait for committee recommendations before taking corrective action.

Michigan In Grip Of Bad Ice Storm

Traffic Is Paralyzed By Hail, Sleet And Snow; Three Persons Dead

DETROIT, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Michigan was in the grip of one of the worst ice storms in its history today.

Hail, freezing rain, sleet and snow paralyzed traffic, disrupted communications and claimed three lives.

Hundreds of Detroit families were without heat or light most of last night as ice-laden power lines snapped. More than 20 Michigan and Ontario cities were isolated from one to 12 hours as telephone lines went down.

Some 50 families were evacuated by boat from their Lake Erie beach cottages near Monroe, Mich., last night as a strong wind pushed surging waves up on the beach.

Two persons were killed and a third critically injured when their car skidded on an icy pavement and collided with a truck near Perry, Mich.; and a pedestrian was killed at an ice-covered intersection in Flint.

Trains between Detroit and Toronto were running two to three hours late and busses from Toronto and Buffalo to Detroit were cancelled by the Greyhound Company early yesterday. Planes were grounded at Willow Run Airport for 24 hours.

Plans Fight For Making Of Hawaii 49th Union State

Senator Knowland Of California Expects Plenty Of Opposition To Proposal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Sen. Knowland (R) Calif., said today he plans a vigorous fight immediately for admission of Hawaii to the union as the 49th state.

The California senator said he will ask that the Senate Public Lands committee open hearings at once on the House-passed bill to admit Hawaii to the union.

In his fight to confer statehood on the territory, Knowland faces a certain fight in the Senate.

Rep. Butler (R) Neb., chairman of the Public Lands committee, has indicated that he is cool toward the measure.

Expert Opposition
Sectional opposition is expected—with production of such goods as sugar, which Hawaii also produces, figuring in the stand which senators are expected to take.

Knowland said he hopes that the machinery for Hawaiian statehood can be set fully in motion during 1948. After Congress acts, Hawaii must set up a constitutional convention and submit the proposal in a referendum to its people, Knowland added.

"The whole theory of giving territorial status to any area is that we are preparing it for statehood. Certainly with 40 years of experience that Hawaii has had in self-government, she has adequately served her apprenticeship."

"If she is ever to be admitted to the union, now is the time."

Gray promised that any maladministration will be promptly exposed and declared that recommendations of the investigators would be acted on with dispatch.

He added, however, that the VA would not necessarily wait for committee recommendations before taking corrective action.

Churchill's Wife Leaves For Morocco

Departs From London To Be With Husband: Churchill Has Been Ill

By CHARLES A. SMITH

LONDON, Jan. 2.—Mrs. Winston Churchill, accompanied by Lord Moran, personal physician of the wartime British prime minister, and Lady Moran, left by airplane today for Morocco where Churchill has been sojourning.

Although the Churchill household said that the visit is in accordance with pre-arranged plans that the party would join the statesman for the latter part of his African vacation, it is understood that the flight was arranged suddenly.

The airplane trip reportedly was arranged after the family received a telephone call from Churchill's daughter, Sarah.

Father Is "Difficult"
Sarah was said to have stated that her father is being "difficult" and that the presence of Mrs. Churchill and Lord Moran will be helpful.

Mrs. Churchill and Lord and Lady Moran left by air at 6:30 a. m. (1:30 a. m.) for Morocco by way of Gibraltar.

Churchill is up and about again in Marrakech, after recovering from what is officially described as a "slight cold" but which also had shown bronchial symptoms. Sarah Churchill, in a telephone talk with her mother last night, insisted that there was no cause for urgent alarm.

But the daughter said that her father is proving his customary "handful", and that the French doctors at Marrakech feel it a considerable responsibility to handle a man who is so irascible about medical care.

In connection with the flight, it is noteworthy that Mrs. Churchill dislikes flying. She flies only when she considers it absolutely essential.

Month-Old Baby Bitten To Death

SEATTLE, Jan. 2.—(INS)—A female German shepherd dog was blamed today for dragging one-month-old Priscilla Ann May from her crib and fatally biting her.

Master Sgt. Robert May, stationed at nearby Fort Lawton, said he found the baby dead at their home near Seattle. He said he had let the shepherd in the house after it broke out of the garage on New Year's eve.

The father asked the sheriff's office to destroy the dog.

Michael Still In Bucharest Today

PARIS, Jan. 2.—(INS)—An American embassy source in Paris said today that King Michael of Romania still is in Bucharest but that he expects to leave tomorrow.

Whether Michael actually will leave at that time remains uncertain, however, according to the embassy source. The informant was in contact with Bucharest by telephone.

There are rumors that difficulties have arisen in connection with arrangements for the departure of Michael and his entourage, apparently over future finances.

French Delegation Washington Bound For Franc Parley

PARIS, Jan. 2.—An official French delegation will leave for Washington tomorrow to discuss possible partial devaluation of the franc.

The delegation is reportedly carrying a plan which will establish an "export franc" of about half the value of the domestic franc.

Pierre Mendes-France, radical Socialist deputy and financial authority, will head the delegation. He represented France at the Bretton Woods conference on monetary stabilization.

The plan which he will discuss with United States officials is designed to stimulate sale of French products in the "hard money" areas.

Imports Expensive
The present pegged value of the franc at about 120 to the dollar has made import of most items into the United States prohibitively expensive.

The new plan is said to call for the creation of a new ratio of two hundred and fifty or sixty francs to the dollar for export purposes.

The domestic value of the franc would remain unchanged, thus allowing the government to skirt the political quicksands of full devaluation.

Devaluation of the franc has been rumored in Paris and Washington for many months.

Hunting alone is responsible for more than ten per cent of all deaths from outdoor sports.

New Fuel For Jet-Propelled Planes Likely

By GEORGE MOISE
(N. A. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics disclosed today that jet-propelled airplanes of the future may use powdered aluminum or boron for fuel, rather than gasoline or oil.

The NACA has been working closely with the army and navy in development of aircraft fuels, and was instrumental in producing the present jet oil, which resembles a light fuel oil mixed with kerosene. On the special fuel, kerosene or motor gasoline.

Gives Promise
But the powdered fuel gives promise of providing high thermal efficiency for jets with a minimum of weight per horsepower produced. The two most widely tried materials are aluminum and boron—an extremely hard non-metallic element heretofore used primarily in combination with carbide to provide the non-diamond hardest cutting surfaces.

NACA spokesmen explained that highly powdered solids could be fed to engines in very much the same manner as liquids are at present and that injection into the combustion chambers under high air pressure would be practically the same as petroleum injection.

The powdered fuels first were considered when materials were sought with a high thermal, or burning, efficiency in relation to weight.

The NACA emphasized that the powdered aluminum and boron have not passed from the experimental stage, and might well be discarded or replaced by other materials after more extensive tests. To date, however, both materials have shown promise.
Meanwhile research continues with more conventional fuels, particularly gasoline for conventional reciprocating engines. Now in wide use in the navy and air force is a new super gasoline, with an octane rating of 115-145, as compared to 100-130—the standard World War II "100-octane" gas.

Pittsburgh Woman Is 102 Years Old

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Mrs. Isabelle Cumming celebrated her 102nd birthday today by doing a bit of mending and reading the newspapers—while her 80-year-old son, Charles, did the cooking at their home in suburban Sharpshurg.

Mrs. Cumming was born in Pittsburgh in 1845, and has outlived all her family of four children except Charles. Despite her advanced age, she still sews, reads and does much of the housework.

Tax Measure
Gets ApprovalCouncil Passes Ordinance
Calling For 15 Mill Rate
For Year 1948OTHER ACTION AT FRIDAY SESSION

City Council met Friday in city hall to conclude business for 1947, and during the session adopted the tax levy ordinance, which calls for 15 mills in 1948, and reported favorably from committee, the budget bill, which shows estimated expenditures next year of $893,550.61. For operation and maintenance it is proposed to spend $818,665.01, and for capital outlay, $74,885. Of the latter sum approximately $38,000, will be for the repair and resurfacing of streets, and the balance for motorized equipment, traffic signals and $9,000 for parking meters, which will be the last installment.

The tax levy is divided as follows:

13 1/4 mills for general revenue; 1 1/4 for sinking fund and 1/2 for library.

Budget Cut
According to Mayor John F. Haven the budget, as prepared, has been "cut to the bone" and several projects which city council proposed will have to be abandoned.

One of these was the proposed zoning survey because council believes the zoning law here is now obsolete. An aerial fire truck also was recommended, but this, too, cannot be arranged.

No wage increases are provided for in the budget although most city departments requested a boost in pay.

Incidentally, today's meeting was the last for Safety Director D. O. Davies who will retire Monday. Council went into committee and acted finally on several matters which have been hanging fire, the tax levy ordinance and 1948 appropriation measure, bearing two. Council favored the repair and resurfacing of several thoroughfares likewise the Bedford and Randolph streets storm sewer.

Woman Injured When She Leaps Into Net
As Building Burns

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—(INS)—A woman was injured today when she leaped into a firemen's net during a five-alarm fire which swept four buildings in mid-Manhattan.

Fire apparatus was hampered in reaching the fire, at 58th Street and Broadway, by the icy pavements. The fire broke out in the four-story building of the Harry Goldman Rubber Co. and quickly spread to an adjacent rooming house and two buildings on West 57th Street before being brought under control.

Miss Mainie McLain suffered a wrenched back when she leaped into the net from the third story of the four-story Rubber Co. building. The building superintendent and his wife, who lived on the top floor, managed to escape before flames blocked the exits.

TRUMAN NAMES TWO
WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—(INS)—President Truman today named Charles D. Wiman of Deere and Co., Moline, Ill., as a member of the president's committee for financing foreign trade.

Wiman succeeds Fowler McCormick, International Harvester Co. official, who resigned due to pressure of personal business affairs.

The great Kiruna iron deposits in Sweden lie north of the Arctic Circle.

Hanlon Reports On Bethlehem Fund For School Band

Balance Of $365.23 In Fund Will Be Held For Future Use Of Band

In a report made public today, City Treasurer B. N. Hanlon presented the receipts and expenditures of the "On to Bethlehem" trip of the New Castle senior high school band over Thanksgiving Day. Mr. Hanlon's report shows $5519.16 received and $5153.93 expended, leaving a balance of $365.23 which will be kept for future use of the band.

Of the total receipts, $5162.57 came from various forms of contributions. The school board started the fund with $500. The benefit football game at the Taggart stadium returned $2200, a collection at a high school game returned $309, organizational contributions and industrial contributions netted about $1400. The sale of space to extra passengers on the special train brought $356.59. The balance came in contributions of from $2 to $25 each.

Expenditures
The largest single expenditure was for the special train. This cost $2838. Meals and rooms in Bethlehem came to $1245.24. Meals in Washington, D. C., and on the special train, returning, and the sight seeing trip around Washington came to $668.10. The bill for lunches for the trip to Bethlehem, candy bars, milk, soft drinks, and printing, amounted to $161.50. Group pictures taken in Washington, tips, and incidental expenses $241.05.

A completely detailed report, along with receipts for every cent spent and also a detailed report of receipts has been sent to the New Castle school board.

Pretty Brunette Amnesia Victim

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Physicians and Pittsburgh police today were attempting to identify a pretty brunette girl who stumbled into a trailer camp and who apparently is a victim of amnesia. The girl walked into the trailer home of Mrs. Ida Smith in Pittsburgh New Year's day, and collapsed. She was taken to a hospital where she was questioned by doctors and officers from the Missing Persons Bureau, but could tell them little.

She said she had been a waitress, and mentioned the name "Kathleen Whitmore," which, she said, might be her own name or that of a friend.

J. A. Hartman Retires As Head Of Kiwanis Club

Outgoing President Urges Adherence To Kiwanis Principles During Coming Year

In his "farewell address" to members of New Castle Kiwanis club, retiring President Joseph A. Hartman recalled some of things which have made headlines during the past year, particularly those which have brought about disturbing conditions in the world. President Hartman urged the members of Kiwanis to try and make the golden rule their rule of life and conduct during the coming year, in order that peace may be achieved on the earth, and to adhere to Kiwanis principles.

He wished incoming President Thomas G. Allen, who takes over next week, a successful year, and before adjourning the club gave him a vote of thanks for his splendid leadership.

Charge Taxi Driver With Manslaughter

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Jan. 2.—(INS)—Loyes Lopes, Connellsville taxi driver, was free under $1000 bond today on a charge of involuntary manslaughter, the outgrowth of the death of Mrs. Nancy Moore, 61, of nearby Brookvale.

Mrs. Moore was killed when struck by a cab operated by Lopes as she alighted from a streetcar Wednesday, police said.

Sailor And Bride Succumb To Injuries

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Jan. 2.—(INS)—The new year was off to a sad start today for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Slack of Horsham, Pa. Their son William Howard Slack, a 19-year-old sailor, was killed New Year's eve in a traffic accident near Oxford involving two Greyhound busses and a truck. His bride of a few months, Mary, 18, of Baxer, Ga., died New Year's day in Chester County hospital from injuries sustained in the same accident. Young Slack was bringing his bride home to meet his parents for the first time.

British May Transfer Mandate In Palestine Before May 15 Date

LONDON, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Political circles in London said today that the transfer of the British mandate in Palestine to the United Nations may now take place before the scheduled May 15 date. They revealed that negotiations have taken place with United Nations officials and consultations have been held with High Commissioner Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham in a move to reach agreement on a mutually satisfactory date.

The new date is expected to be set some time between the beginning of March and the middle of May. Britain would have preferred February but it was found that this would not allow enough time for settling trade and other important questions.

Hospital Closed By Shortage Of Nurses

EAST RAINELLE, W. Va., Jan. 2.—(INS)—The acute shortage of nurses has closed East Rainelle's hospital. Dr. C. I. Wall and Dr. C. C. Jackson, who have operated the 35-bed hospital in this small Greenbrier County community since 1930, said "we just locked the door" because they could not get nurses.

There are about 2,000 more licensed physicians in the U. S. today than in 1944.

Cannot Meet Deadline For Marshall Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Rep. Eaton (R) N. J., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, declared that Congress can not meet the March 31 deadline for placing the Marshall program in operation.

The Republican leader stated: "We'll be lucky if the public hearings are completed by that date."

Under the time-table set up for the operation of the Marshall Plan, the long-range program for the reconstruction of 16 non-Soviet European nations is scheduled to get underway April 1.

An anticipation of meeting the deadline, Congress voted $22 million dollars in stopgap funds at the special session for Italy, France and Austria and provided that the interim program was to be concluded March 31.

Eaton asserted in an interview that he did not see how Congress would meet that scheduled. He stated:

"This is probably the most important matter affecting American world policy that has ever come before Congress. If Congress and the public are to understand its significance and its scope, the subject must be thoroughly reviewed. That will take time."

The Congressman, a supporter of the Marshall program, said his group will meet Jan. 7, the day following the reconvening of Congress, to discuss its program.

HOMESTEAD MAN IS VICTIM OF FUMES

MUGGS AND SKEETER

BY WALLY BISHOP

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 2.—A dark-eyed beauty with a shock of bronze hair today blasted the fable that Hollywood is a treacherous jungle overrun by wolves.

The young lady, Ruth Roman, is emphatic in her belief a girl is just as safe in gladiatorland as she would be in her native Boston, or any other place, for that matter.

Said Ruth: "A girl in Hollywood gets the kind of attention from the men that her own manners invite."

Must Invite Trouble
"If her own attitude indicates that she does not want any wolfish approach she need not worry about how the man will act."

"I know that I personally never have had any unpleasant experiences."

"And what is true of Hollywood is true of Boston, or New York or any other place."

"A girl isn't likely to get into trouble if she doesn't want it."

"Of course, some young girl from some country town might have a little trouble. She might think it necessary to put on a blouse to cover up her lack of sophistication, so she might unwittingly invite unwelcome attentions."

New York First
"I personally think that a girl planning to come to Hollywood would do well to go to New York City for a while first. Living there gives you an air of sophistication. I'm glad I lived there for three years before I came to Hollywood."

Ruth Roman has wanted to be an actress since she was a little girl. She left Boston when she was 16 and went to New York. She had several plays on the road, but none of them ever hit Broadway.

She arrived in Hollywood three years ago and even before she got an agent she went to look at the footprints of the stars in the forecourt of Grauman's Chinese theatre.

She was lunching in the RKO commissary with her agent when a director saw her and what he saw he liked. Ruth, by the way, is five feet, four and a half inches tall, weighs 116 pounds and has a figure which may turn some of the most famous gladiators green with envy.

Eight Fatalities In Philadelphia Area Over Holiday

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—(INS)—The toll of New Year's day traffic fatalities in the Philadelphia area was set today at eight—including a young man who dashed in front of a taxi during a quarrel with a friend.

Catherine Sexton, 26, said she and James Callahan, 25, were arguing while returning from a party in Frankford when he suddenly said:

"I'm sick and tired of it all; I'll end it all."

Killed By Cab
Miss Sexton said Callahan ran into the street, caught his hand in a passing truck and was hurled into the taxicab's path. The cab, George W. Ulrich, 25, was placed under $1,500 bail pending coroner's action.

Among the other fatalities of the new year was a man identified as Theodore Kaminski of Scranton. He died in Cooper hospital, Camden, N. J., a few hours after he was hit by an automobile in Pottsville township, N. J. The driver of the car was identified as Charles A. Brown, 29, of Camden.

Tech Professor Fatally Injured

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Chester W. Leaman, 26, a mathematics instructor at Carnegie Institute of Technology, was the only traffic fatality in Pittsburgh as the New Year arrived.

Leaman was killed early Thursday when his car struck a service pole as he was returning home following a New Year's Eve party.

Expect Post To Remain Vacant

Speculate That Second Deputy Post In Labor-Industry Not To Be Filled Soon

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Jan. 2.—INS.—Capitol hill political speculators expect the second deputy secretaryship of labor and industry, resigned by David Williams last October to remain vacant for some time. Governor Duff has said a successor undoubtedly would be appointed. The post was opened by former Governor Martin as a sop to the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor. Williams, a former AFL leader, quit the job to accept a high-salaried position with a liquor-making firm. The first deputy is Frank Boal, one time secretary to the late U. S. Sen. James J. Davis.

A 29 by 30 inch portrait of ex-Governor Martin, now a U. S. senator, has been placed in the inner reception room along with those of his predecessors in the governor's chair. The oil painting, done by Helen Lowden Evans, of Drexel Hill, shows Martin in full military uniform covered with medals earned during his 44 years of military life. Martin was the second governor to choose military dress for his formal portrait authorized under a $750 legislative appropriation. The other was Gen. John W. Geary, of Westmoreland County, whose portrait was placed in the office 74 years ago. Geary was in the Union army. Martin, a retired major general, fought in the Spanish-American War and World War I and was commander of the famed 28th Infantry Division during early war training after it had been federalized in 1941.

Governor and Mrs. Duff have moved from the beautiful native stone Dutch colonial home provided for governors by the commonwealth at the Indianatown Gap military reservation to the 80-odd-year-old Brownstone mansion squatting on the bank of the Susquehanna river at Harrisburg. Many of Duff's immediate predecessors dislike the Rococo mansion. Ex-Governor Earle flatly refused to occupy it until it was redecorated. Then came Arthur H. James, who became tired of the bleak, chilly mansion and had plans drawn for a modern executive home. When Edward Martin took over, the war had made materials scarce so the plans were shelved. Several years later he had the Indianatown Gap home built with native stone and other supplies. Duff said he would ignore the housing problem until the state's mental hospitals have been put in good condition.

Officers of the Pennsylvania State Education Association devoted a large portion of their convention time appealing member-delegates not satisfied with the organization's wage efforts. The powerful teacher-lobby suffered a membership decline following its failure to obtain a minimum $2400-a-year salary schedule from the general assembly. Delegates questioned executive committee policies during the convention and much criticism was heard in conversations of PSEA operation. The organization reports a membership of approximately 53,000.

Former Officer In Air Force Re-enlists

William D. Nelson, a former army air forces first lieutenant, who resides at 219 Park avenue, has re-enlisted in the army air forces for a period of three years. Mr. Nelson, who had over three years prior service, including more than a year of foreign duty, was sworn in December 29 at Pittsburgh. He was discharged from the service more than a year ago, and after giving civilian life a trial decided the air forces was the place for him. Mr. Nelson will report to Fort Slocum, N. Y., for a refresher training course of approximately two and one half weeks duration, thence to Texas for the purpose of pursuing a course in control tower operators' school. After his schooling is completed Mr. Nelson will be permanently assigned to an organization and a post where he will continue work in that field. Mr. Nelson was awarded this grade adjustment due to his prior service and fine record. The local recruiting sergeant states that there are many local men who could return to the army or the air forces with a good rating, but are letting the opportunity slip through their fingers. For further information concerning enlistment or re-enlistment in the US army or US army air forces contact your local recruiting sergeant located in room 202, Post Office building, or telephone 7593.

Quiet Greeting Given New Year

With not too much hilarity, the new year, Little Mister 1948, arrived Thursday morning. For once his traditional loincloth was sufficient clothing, for the morning was as balmy as early spring. It may have been higher prices for alcoholic beverages, or it may be the promised "buyers' market" is here. Whatever the reason, the public places where beverages are dispensed seemed to be doing less business than was expected.

could "roll their own" seemed to be the style for this new year's. Churches attracted good crowds for the watch night services, and the theaters reported fair business. The streets had the usual crowd of revelers, with some noise-making, but nothing unusual. A few whistles blew and here and there a citizen tried out the family blunderbuss with a shot into the air. But taken across the board, the celebrating locally seemed to be somewhat restrained as compared to other years. The weather stood out for its freakishness. On Thursday evening thunder and lightning accompanied a downpour of rain. Amateur weather experts claim it augurs a late spring.

Forrest G. Warren, business economist, topped the list of 17 Commerce department employees named by the committee in its probe of commodity market speculation.
Senate investigators immediately demanded to know whether Warren was connected with the department's survey of American ability to supply food and other commodities in the interim foreign aid program.

Cleveland Police Probing Death Of Eight-Year-Old
CLEVELAND, Jan. 2.—(INS)—The battered body of an eight-year-old girl was found on a porch not far from her home shortly before last midnight on Cleveland's east side.
Cuyahoga County Coroner Samuel E. Gerber said death was caused by laceration of the brain resulting from a puncture by "some sharp type of instrument." He said he would withhold a final ruling pending further investigation.
Sent To Store
The victim, Sheila Ann Tuley, was found about three hours after her father, Edward J. 34, had sent her to a neighborhood store. When she failed to return, he notified police.
Detective Lt. Peter Kiekie said Sheila either was a murder victim or a victim of a hit-skip driver.
Gerber said there were six other wounds on the girl's body, also caused by the same type of instrument. He added that Sheila lived "for awhile" after receiving the wounds.

New Office Hours At Revenue Office
Longer Hours At Internal Revenue Office To Aid Income Tax Filers Until March 15
Stanley Granger, collector of internal revenue for the western district of Pennsylvania, announced today the following office hours for the income tax filing period beginning January 2, 1948 and ending March 15, 1948:
8:30 a. m. to 5 p. m., Monday through Friday, including March 15, 1948. The office will not be open for the purpose of preparing income tax returns after 5 p. m. on March 15, 1948.
Because of the reduction in personnel suffered as a result of the Reduction in force order of July 1, 1947, it will be impossible to prepare returns for taxpayers in cases where business schedules, rent schedules, etc., are required to be filled in. These taxpayers will be required to prepare their own returns or have them prepared elsewhere.
In Pittsburgh, assistance in the preparation of income tax returns will be given at the Pittsburgh field division only. Payments will be received at the main office, Room 406, New Post Office Building, Pittsburgh, and the Pittsburgh Field Division, Keeney Building, Pittsburgh.
Returns may be filed and assistance also given at the local branch office of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Second Floor, Post Office Building, New Castle.

Wolves Club Gala New Year's Party
One Hundred Couples Gathered For 18th Annual Party By Local Organization
A New Year's eve party with all the gala trimmings was enjoyed by 100 couples Wednesday evening, the occasion being sponsored by the Wolves club at the Cathedral. This year's festivities were dedicated to the newly formed Wolves auxiliary, and retiring president Angelo Frediani presented the new charter to the women's auxiliary. Mrs. Humbert Fazzone, president, graciously accepted the charter and responded.
Nicholas Casalandra, new president of the Wolves, spoke briefly as did also Joseph Fregel, new program chairman.
At 7:30 o'clock the club members and their wives and many guests from out of town, sat down to a sumptuous steak dinner. An entertaining floor show from Philadelphia held the attention of all for several hours, and then at the stroke of midnight the year of 1948 was welcomed by all with the usual hilarity and showering of confetti and balloons.
Dancing continued until 3 a. m., to the tune of a local popular orchestra.
Paul J. Failla, program chairman, and his committee worked diligently to make this gala 18th annual Wolves party one of the best. Those who aided were James V. Lombardo, Fred M. DeCarbo, James Carvella, Frank Cozza and Frank Scargallo.

U.S. Is Facing Acute Physicists Shortage
CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—(INS)—The United States is faced with an acute shortage of capable young physicists to carry on vital research in atomic energy.
This contention is made in an article in the current issue of the "Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists" by Dr. Edward Teller, professor of physics at the University of Chicago and a consultant to the atomic energy commission.
Dr. Teller, one of the men credited with creating the atomic bomb, wrote:
"This shortage will not be relieved for several years although some improvement may take place when those students whose work was interrupted by the war complete their formal training."
Need Trained Men
Dr. Teller said that the lack of trained personnel was one of the reasons that atomic research has not moved as rapidly in the past two years as it did in the war years.
He listed as another reason the fact that many top scientists have returned to basic research at academic institutions.
He noted that during the last two and a half years only a half billion dollars had been spent on atomic research against two billion during the war years.
Dr. Teller charged that atomic research halted almost completely after Hiroshima.
More Considered Pace
He added that the atomic energy commission, in its first full year in operation, has reorganized research and set a "more considered pace" with long range goals.
He wrote:
"Careful plans are laid for development of all peaceful uses of nuclear energy, including its industrial application."
LAST OF ESCAPED CONVICTS CAUGHT

Titans Meet Utes In College Headliner

Big Game Of Season Set For Farrell Gym

Washabaugh To Start Wagner In Place Of McHinnery Against Champs; No Let-Up For Titans As They Trek To Miami U. Of Ohio Saturday.

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 2.—The single biggest test of the season shapes up for the fast-passing Westminster college Titans this week as they tackle Utah University and Miami University on successive nights. The Utah battle tonight at the Farrell high school gymnasium is the feature game of the year for the Washabaugh team.

If the Titans hope to get back into the thick of the Tri-State race, a double victory is a must. Coach Washabaugh of the Titans will start sophomore Bruce Wagner, Cochran, Pa., at a forward post in an effort to shake the Titans from the listlessness that has characterized their play thus far this season. Wagner will start in the forward role usually held down by the veteran Bill McHinnery, like the little girl in the rhyme, is either very, very good or horrid.

DON HEDDELESTON

and thus far this year the Cannonburg veteran has been unable to buy a basket.

Washabaugh has hopes that the sophomore's "pressing" style of play will make up for his inexperience. But Wagner is no Johnny-come-lately to the big time. In the second collegiate game of his career as a freshman, he filled in for the injured Tom Jones in Madison Square Garden against CCNY.

Nailing down starting posts with Wagner will be Don Heddeleston at the other forward, Tom Jones and Allan McCullough, guards and "Chuckin' Chet" Dembinski, the

LaSalle Jolts Utah Flippers

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 2.—(INS)—LaSalle college's victory streak stretched to eight straight games today by virtue of a 52-46 win over the University of Utah.

tational Tourney kingpins will be coming to the Farrell floor with blood in their eyes. The St. John's win has buoyed Titan hopes of a similar upset and smashed the Ute invincibility legend, but Coach Vedral Pedersen will use the defeat as a whip to send his Redskins onto the floor seeking vengeance and lost prestige.

Big guns of the western outfit are Vern Gardner, two-time All-American, and the outstanding Madison Square Garden tourney performer last season, and Arnold Ferrin, brilliant shot and floor wizard. Four other hold-overs bulked the squad. They are Fred Weidner, team workhorse, Dick Smulin and the Peterson brothers, Glynn and Bill.

Watson May Not Play

Leon Watson, outstanding play-maker and hot-shot point-reaper, may not see action, having suffered a broken finger on the coast and used sparingly since.

Utah's last appearance in the spacious Farrell gym cost them a victory—Duquesne downing them, 59-50 in a thriller last winter.

Immediately following the game, the Titans will depart for Cincinnati, Ohio, where they meet Miami on a double header program.

Utah Redskins Who Meet Titans Tonight

Elks, Oil City Play Saturday

Coach Paul Morrison will send his New Castle Elks quintet into action Saturday night at Washington High floor against the strong Oil City Merchants. The Elks Reserve will play a local team in the preliminary game at 7:15 o'clock.

The Elks have settled down after a slow start and have won their last two games, defeating Vandergrift and Butler BISC. The Oil City team comes here highly rated in northwestern circles.

Indications point to a large crowd for the Saturday game at the Washington floor.

Pulaskis Battle Pittsburgh Sunday

The K. P. "Big Five" will have its third full coming Sunday at the Arena floor as they battle the strong Pittsburgh Colonial "Big Five" at 3:30 o'clock.

The K. P. team after losing that heart-breaking 42 to 41 game to the Altoona Indians have started another winning streak. Coach Al Gonet will have his strongest lineup available for the game Sunday. The Pittsburgh five is one of the best in the tri-state area.

The Olympics were last held in 1936 in Germany.

Foresee Rickey Taking Control Of Grid Dodgers

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—(INS)—The biggest boost ever received by the All-American football conference is expected during the next few days in the form of an announcement that Branch Rickey has taken over control of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The deal reportedly has been closed between the president of the baseball Dodgers and owners of the conference football team.

The significance of such a move traces to the obvious fact that Rickey foresees success for the new pro circuit which last season made an impressive bid for recognition against the firmly entrenched National League.

Rickey didn't get rich and attain respect as one of the smartest men in sports by making dumb moves.

If the deal is formally announced as expected, it means Rickey has read the signs, figured this against that, consulted with football people everywhere, studied graphs and charts and finally has decided that the Dodgers are better than a gamble.

They will be stamped as a fine business proposition with Rickey back of them and through proper promotion will become another Rickey gold mine as long as the conference lasts. Rickey's interest in the circuit would indicate that it will last forever.

The new circuit has received nothing comparable to this shot in the arm during its two years of existence to indicate just how strong it may yet become.

Gotham Quints Win In Garden

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—(INS)—New York City's basketball prestige got a much-needed shot in the arm today as a result of twin triumphs scored by Gotham's College fives at Madison Square Garden last night.

New York University racked up its eighth straight win by downing Colorado, 59-46, and Long Island University squeezed out a 44-41 victory over Southern California.

Big Al Hannum of U.S.C. was the star of the nightcap. He was high scorer with 19 points. Lou Lipman topped LIU with 15 points.

ELLWOOD'S ROSS OF NITTANY TEAM MARRIED IN TEXAS

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 2.—(INS)—Robert Ross, 22, husky 205-pound reserve guard of the Penn State football team from Ellwood City, Pa., and his bride were honeymooning in Texas today.

Ross and his sweetheart of high school days, Miss Colleen Aiken, 20, were married last night following the Cotton Bowl game at Christ Lutheran church in Dallas. Mrs. Ross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Aiken of Ellwood City, flew to Dallas from Seattle, Wash., where she is employed as a bank clerk.

DUKES SHOOTING FOR SIXTH WIN

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Duquesne university's basketball Dukes will go after their sixth straight victory of the season tonight when they meet the University of Nevada in Pittsburgh's Gardens.

The Dukes will be minus one, and possibly two of their regulars when they take on the Border Conference champions. High-scoring Ed Dahler is ill and will be unable to play. Guard Johnny Gallagher, who suffered a sprained ankle a week ago, will see little, if any, action.

Nevada, champions of their own conference the past two seasons, has won six and lost one game this season.

The umpire-in-chief cannot overrule a decision handed down by a field umpire in a baseball game. Their authority on the field is equal.

Army's 1944 football team rolled up 504 points during the season, but this record was topped by the Minnesota Gophers in 1904 when they got 725.

Stanley Ketchel was known as the "Michigan Assassin."

Five County Quints Have Games Tonight

Five high schools of the county have cage dates tonight as the exhibition slate draws to a close and the sectional warfare looms ever nearer.

Wampum, experiencing some rough going in the pre-league grind, plays host to Midland, a team they whipped, 52-45, earlier at the valley court. The Redskins have split even in six contests so far.

Mt. Jackson, owning one win out of six starts, will journey to Freedom to tackle the "Oilers", having lost to them, 45-25, in their opener. The Fran Webster gang will again be underdogs in the battle.

Plainsboro goes to Darlington, New Wilmington, with a 3-3 record, treks to Oakmont, and Princeton will test their weapons against their alumni.

Canes Play Saturday

New Castle will close out its exhibition slate Saturday night at Shippensburg when they take on the unbeaten Blue Devils, winners of six in a row this campaign.

This tilt looms as one of the toughest on the Red and Black schedule, and the Hurricane will need all its guns to dispose of the rangy Mercer county five.

Two more games the same evening will clean up the pre-loop card. Bessemer is at Lowellville and Wampum invades Springfield.

Adragna Signed To Garden Card

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Sammy Adragna, rugged Carnegie, Pa., welterweight, and Doll Rafferty, Milwaukee, Wis., mauler, have been signed for one of three ten-round bouts at Pittsburgh Gardens for Jan. 12.

Lee Sala, hard-hitting Donora, Pa., middleweight who has won 33 straight bouts, 23 of them by knockouts, meets Vinnie Rossano of Brooklyn, in another ten.

The third ten-rounder has not been announced.

City-County Loop To Meet Sunday

There will be a meeting Sunday at the Arena at 2 o'clock of the managers and officials of the city-county basketball league, it was announced by Secretary Stan Shaw. Plans for the month of January will be discussed and a schedule drawn up. The Elks Reserve has joined the loop.

The shortest nine inning game in the big leagues took less than one hour to play and was between the Giants and the Phillies September 28, 1919. The game took fifty-one minutes with the Giants winning 6-1.

If a bowling ball rebounds from the rear cushion and knocks down a pin it is not scored as a pinfall.

The nation's No. 1 amateur tennis for 1947 is Jake Kramer, who has already turned pro.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

ONE of the game commission's management problems is the live trapping and transfer of game and fur-bearing animals. At this time of year, you may see small "green boxes" among the shrubbery of your next door neighbor, or while strolling along a winding path in your local park. These "green boxes" have been placed there to catch Cottontail rabbits, which have become too numerous in such areas where no hunting is allowed, and in areas where they may do damage. They are, then, taken to areas open to the public for hunting and released in cover where they will do no damage and where they may multiply in natural surroundings. As these rabbits are released the day they are caught, they remain in excellent condition for restocking purposes. For the past five years, an average of over 30,000 Cottontails a year have been trapped and released in this manner. Trapping permits are issued to authorized individuals, or groups such as Boy Scouts, as trapping agents of the game commission. Such agents receive 75c per rabbit turned over alive and in good condition to their district game protector. If you are interested in assisting in this program, or know where rabbits should be removed, get in touch with your district game protector. . . . Clark Shaughnessy, football's nomadic coach and expert of the T-formation, has signed as an advisory coach of the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football league. . . . The army has disclosed it is getting ready to find its best men for the 1948 Olympic competition. It will hold tournaments in boxing, tennis and golf this year. Boxing will occur between June 1-20 at Fort Sheridan, Ill. The tennis meet is scheduled for July 15-20, in New York and the golf tournament will be held from August 15 to 31 at Fort Lewis, Wash. . . . U. # Who's Greatest Now, Michigan Or N. Dame?

By BILL CORUM
International News Service Staff Writer
NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Michigan yesterday except Lana Turner, and Bob Topping had already won her.

All that the California teams get out of the Rose Bowl these days is the stickers. And what a sticking this one was!

I hate to leave my old pal, Frank Leahy, sitting on a park bench in the snow. But let's face it Frankie, chum, in the public mind this 48-0 trouncing of Southern Cal is going to make Michigan the top college team of 1947.

The press associations can poll the sports writers until the Trojans finally have found out what hit 'em, but no matter how the poll results the fans are going to say it's Michigan.

They always pay off on the scoreboard, and should. N. D. hung it top-sided victory over S. C. on the board for Michigan to shoot at. Not only did the young men from Ann Arbor hit it, they shot it off the board.

Wanted Tie-up

You remember, I'm sure, how the Pacific Coast Conference cried for this tie-up with the Big Nine champion in the Rose Bowl each Jan. 1?

They cried for it; now they're

BOUND TO HAPPEN, CLAMOR FOR IRISH, MICHIGAN CONTEST

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—(INS)—It was bound to happen.

An offer to donate $50,000 to charity has been guaranteed if a game can be arranged within 30 days between the Michigan Wolverines and the Notre Dame Irish, both undefeated.

The offer was made by Otto Schneringer, president of the Curtiss Candy Company, who said: "It's only right that the teams settle which one is better by playing each other with their present personnel."

There is, though one thing that is about as near to a death and taxes proposition as college football can offer. That is that somebody in the Big Nine will be good.

That could have been said of the P. C. C. in the honey days of Howard Harding Jones Pop Warner, Andy Smith and other titans in the coaching rank who were lured to California either by gold or golden sunshine.

I admit that its guessing at a magnificent distance to guess that this isn't true any more. But a fellow can read the papers and magazines wherever he is and I have a feeling that those far western teams are playing a species of touch football.

Won't Stand Such Games

Don't think for a minute, however, that big as it is traditionally that the Tournament of Roses New Year's Day game will stand such a kicking around indefinitely.

Some January 1, they'll come up with another one of those rains out there, and they'll wake up to find a monster mob of 20,000 in the seats.

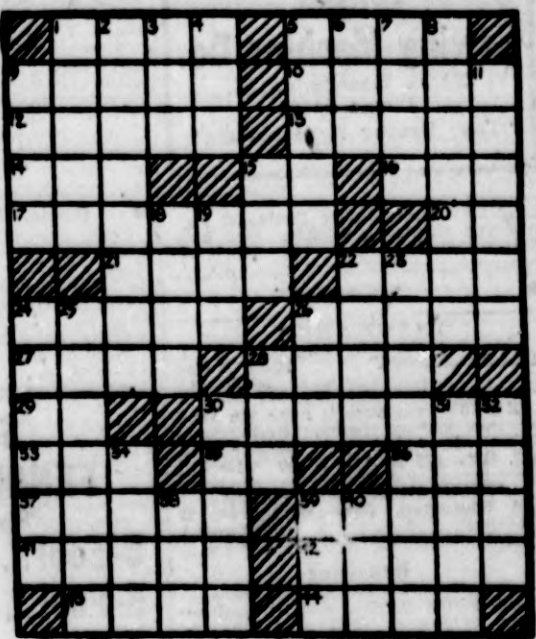

Playing day and date against the Rose Bowl, Santa Anita up the road a little piece has no trouble drawing crowds that get bigger each bowl game.

That means there are plenty of fans for both. In sports crazy California, there are. But they won't go to see a no-contest contest forever, even there. Nor even if it is the Rose Bowl.

It's unfair to nice kids to subject them as guinea pigs to such things as took place at Pasadena yesterday. There ought to be a law.

Record Crowds Are Expected At State Farm Show

HARRISBURG, Jan. 2.—(INS)—Record crowds today were expected to throng the 32nd annual five-day Pennsylvania Farm Show opening January 12 at Harrisburg. State Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst said preliminary arrangements indicated 550,000 rural folk and other visitors will attend the 120 events to be staged in the 14-acre farm show building. Farmers have entered 1430 head of beef and dairy cattle, sheep and swine and nearly 4000 fowl in judging contests slated to get underway the opening day. The livestock display will be one of the largest presented in farm show history. Horst said the exhibition will open officially Monday night with a welcoming address by Governor James H. Duff and a precision riding demonstration by State Police.

Many Contests

Entertainment featuring contests among farmers will be provided every evening, Horst reported.

A rural talent festival entitled "Song of the Seasons" will be conducted January 13 by a 500-member chorus and 100-member future farmer band. State championship horse pulling contests will be held January 14 while a log sawing event, first of its kind, and horse-shoe pitching contest will highlight the show January 15.

Other phases of the show will include stationary displays of farm products, farm cooking and homemaking skills and farm machinery.

The exhibits of choice fruits, decorated cakes and excellent needlework turned out by farm wives add much to the color of the lively show, one of the state's outstanding annual events.

Tied in with showmanship events will be regular business and educational meetings of the 31 statewide farm organizations that form the backbone of the exhibition.

They included separate societies of farm women, farm youths, various cattle, sheep and swine breeders, fruit and nut producers, beekeepers, potato and vegetable growers, poultrymen and wool dealers.
